FIRE ON SQUAD

Attack Believed to Have Been Made by Detachment of Radicals

Gary, Ind., Oct 10.—A squad of United States soldiers in an automobile was fired upon from ambush yesterday in Gary.

The attack, believed to have been made by a detachment of radicals, was launched during the dark hours just preceding dawn as Sergt. Maj. George Schrich, with five other members of the Fifty-ninth infantry, patrolled the streets of the south end of the steel town. The four shots went wild.

Sergt. Schrich, followed by his men, leaped from the automobile and charged the clump of bushes from behind which the attack was made, but their assailants had escaped. The soldiers, armed with rifles, refrained from opening fire, fearing injury of persons not implicated in the attack.

The hambuscade is the first overt act that has been committed against either regular soldiers or Indiana militiamen since troops were sent to Gary.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 10.—Strike leaders are greatly interested in the efforts of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers to settle the strike in plants where the association has agreements. ## WETS READY TO UPHOLD DRY LAW

Anti-Prohibitionist Application Will Raise Clamor For Repeal

WET XMAS POSSIBLE

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Roper Counting on Support of 'Wets' in Enforcement of Law

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Roper is counting on the support of Anti-Prohibition organizations, as well as the "drys," in the enforcement of both the wartime prohibition act and the constitutional amendment prohibition law. Numerous letters have been received at the Commission's office from personal liberty leagues and other organizations which have been framed to oppose nation wide prohibition.

These organizations, in addition to advocating law enforcement, according to officials of the bureau, are taking this position because they believe as did the late President Grant, that the surest and quickest way is to enforce it so rigidly that the popular clamor will be for its repeal. This policy suits the drys entirely. They go on the theory that rigid enforcement of the anti-liquor laws will demonstrate their value.

Moving on the assumption that the prohibition enforcement law, as it came from conference a few days ago will be speedily approved by the House as it was by the Senate, the Bureau of Internal Revnue has gone forward with its arrangements to put the men in the field at work to carry out its provisions. Already the Commissioner has prepared a statement of the policies of the bureau in carrying out the provisions of the law, and has instructions ready to send to collectors and other field agents throughout the country as soon as the conference report is adopted. It was said at the bureau yesterday that this policy would be made public as soon as it goes out to the revenue agents.

PRESIDENT MUCH BETTER

President Wilson was so much better today according to unofficial information at the White House, that it was considered possible he might be able to leave his bed for a short time. This however, depended on how Dr. Cary T. Grayson found him when he made his morning visit.

Dr. Grayson probably will have sole charge of the patient within a few days, as there is no longer any necessity for daily consultations, it was said. Dr. Sterling Ruffin dropped out of the conference last night. Dr. Francis X. Dercum, Philadelphia, nerve specialist, is to see the President tomorrow.

Although President Wilson's condition has steadily become better during the last few days, there still is chance of a relapse such as is common in cases of nervous exhaustion. Therefore, the utmost care must be exercised for severol days yet, it was stated.

GOV'S PROCLAMATION

War Memorial Day Sunday, October 12, 1919.

Whereas, The Virginia War History Commission, acting with the Jackson Memorial Corporation and the Ministerial Union of Richmond, in order to honor the memory of the brave Virginia soldiers who fell in the Civil War and in the World War; and in order to impress upon our people in the most solemn manner the sacred duty of perpetuating the memory of the worthy deeds of the sons of Virginia, living and dead, who so worthily stood for the Mother State in the camps and on the battlefields; and in order to link the honor and worth of the heroes of this later day with the reverence and veneration so fully given to the heroes who have for half a cenutry been placed in our Virginia Valhalla; now

Therefore, I, Westmoreland Davis, Governor of Virginia, do hereby designate Sunday, October 12, 1919, as War Memorial Day, and I request that this day be observed by the minister and congregation of each church in the Commonwealth of Virginia as a day of special observance and consecration to high ideals of loyalty and patriotism as explified in the record of our Virginia soldiers in the past and in the present.

I furthermore make special request of each minister and congregation that this day of honor for the men of the Confederacy and of loving remembrance of the great Virginian, Robert E. Lee, may be used in each church to impress the duty of preserving the records of our heroes of this later day and of transmitting to the Virginia War History Commission the full roster of the men on the Service Flag of each church in the state.

Finally, I urge the use of this holy day in each Sunday School and church of the Commonwealth as a time of solemn reminder of the sanctity of the duty to honor the love and heroism of our Virginia soldiers and to reserve to future generations the true account of their loyal service and devotion; and to this end I suggest that each minister make special reference to this matter, reading the names on the service flag and urging full cooperation with the Virginia War History Commission specially charged with this memorial duty.

Given under my hand and under the Lesser Seal of the Commonwealth this seventh day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and in the one hundred nad forty-fourth year of the Commonwealth.

Miss Helen N. Cummings, this city, is chairman of the local war history commission. She reports that none of the churches have yet filled in their questionnaires.

FLYER IN BIG RACE MEETS DEATH

Lieut. Wales Killed at Deer Mountain, Wyo., Says Dispatch

IS BLINDED BY SNOW

"Flying Parson" Maynard in Lead —Trip to Yesterday Had Covered 1,696 Miles.

New York, Oct. 10.—First Lieut. E. V. Wales, a Western contestant, in the trans-continental air race, was killed at Deer Mountains, Wyo., late yesterday, and Lieut. William Goldsborough, who accompanied Wales as a passenger, was injured, said a dispatch received at the American Flying Club today.

Wales and Goldsborough were caught in a snow storm and while blinded crashed into the top of the mountain. The machine rolled down the mountainside into a deep snow drift.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—Eastbound and westbound fliers met in the air at North Platte, Neb., yesterday in the trans-continental reliability race and last night Lieut. B. W. Maynard, the "Flying Parson," was at Cheyenne, Wyo., hundreds of miles ahead of the other westbound aviators, while Capt. Lowell H. Smith, well in the lead of the contingent from the west, was at Omaha for the night.

Maynard, piloting machine No. 31, left Chicago at 7:09 a. m., central time, and flew 886 miles today, 76 miles more than he covered yesterday in sailing from New York to Chicago. But his time, chiefly due to adverse weather conditions, which, in one form or another, extended admost from coast to coast, was slower. He landed at Cheyenne at 6:25 p. m., mountain time, having covered a total distance of 1,696 miles in two days.

Capt. Smith, after struggling through three mountain snowstorms and over three mountain ranges, reached Omaha at 7:20 o'clock last night, having made 852 mile today without accident. His total distance since the start at San Francisco, is 1,460 miles.

SEEK BETTER RELATIONS

Gompers Introduces Proposals in the Conference to Settle the Steel Strike

Concrete proposals designed to bring about better relations between employers and the employed were laid before the national industrial conference yesterday by members of the various groups making up the gathering. The proposals included:

Arbitration of the nation wide steel strike with return of the men to work pending settlement; and industrial truce starting immediately and continuing three months; creating of an arbitration board by the President and Congress and including among its members all ex-presidents; and a comprehensive plan for adjudication of industrial dispute through boards of arbitration in the various industries.

The conference yesterday also took its first concrete action in adopting a motion, offered by Thos. L. Chadbourne, a representative of the public, providing that a committee consisting of three members from each of the groups of employers, labor and the public, be appointed to investigate the high cost of living.

The proposal for settlement of the steel strike, introduced by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and one of the delegates, soon after the conference met in the first of the day's two sessions, came as a surprise to the groups representing the public and the employers.

In offering the proposal, Mr. Gompers explained that it had the support of the labor delegates including the representatives of the railroad brotherhoods.

SUGAR SHORTAGE

The sugar shortage is confronting the candy industry, with the most serious crisis in its existence, according to a member of one of the big Baltimore firms. The situation is worse than it was during the war, he said. Then the manufactureres had sugar, but the Government prescribed how much they were to use. Now the Government imposes no restrictions, but the manufacturers have practically no sugar. And they do not know where to get more.

Candy manufacturers have been apprehensive for some time about the shortage of sugar. They have been buying hand to mouth, so to speak. Demands for candy has been excellent—in fact, unprecedented—but getting sugar has been a worrying problem. Now "help" is being curtailed, plants are "running part time and some of them are practically at a standstill. it is said.

And the worst is yet to come if experts are to be believed. A "shortage" is looked for the last six weeks of the year. With conditions so distressing in advance, this shortage promises real trouble.

AMERICAN LEGION

Reports on State Convention Will be Made Tonight and Officers Chosen

The American Legion will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at which time the delegates to the recent state convention held in Roanoke will make their report.

It is also proposed at this meeting to elect officers and appoint a number of committees. At previous meetings the attendance was too small to warrant going into an election, hence the election was postponed.

It is earnestly hoped that all ex-service men, whether or not they have signed the allegiance to the Legion, will make a special effort to be present.

C. Keith Carlin, this city, who attended the state convention, was chosen a member of the executive committee of the state.

Corns Come Off Like Banana Peel

"Gets-It" Leaves Too Smooth As Your Palm. Never Fails.

Ever peel off a banana skin? Well, that's the way "Gets-It" peels off any corn or callus. It's a picnic. Nothing else in the world will do it.

"2 Drops of 'Gets-It,' Good-bye Corns!" but "Gets-It" because of the new secret principle in the "Gets-It" formula. "Gets-It" does away forever with "contraptions," "wrappy" plasters, ointments that rub off, bloodletting knives, and scissors that snip into the "quick." "Gets-It" eases pain. It takes but a second or two to use "Gets-It." There's no fussing or trouble. It dries immediately. You put your stocking right back on again. Your corn will come off painlessly in one complete piece. That's common-sense. It never fails. "Gets-It," the only sure, guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by G. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Alexandria and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by RICHARD GIBSON, FRANK WARFIELD.

LANDMARK DISAPPEARS

What has long passed for a drinking fountain, although most of the time as dry as Sahara, at the intersection of Cameron and Royal streets, is no more. Nothing save the site is now visible.

What was thought to be a sine qua non to the market house, where man could quench his thirst, horses could drink, birds sip and dogs lap water ad libitum.

Over five years ago patriotic societies of women dedicated this fountain. There was a large gathering of people on the occasion, among them William Jennings Bryan, who indulges in nothing stronger than grape juice. The fountain anticipated the arid period through which the country is now passing when aqua Cameroni would be virtually the only drink dispensed in Alexandria.

One of the cannon used in the war of 1812 was utilized in the manufacture of the fountain. It proved a failure from the first, the flow being insufficient, and often the water was cut off altogether. Thirsty creatures who sighed for "Adam's ale" found themselves as the troops of Tema, the figure of speech used by Job in describing a caravan's disappointment in coming to what was supposed to be a well in the desert.

The fountain was not appreciated by residents of the locality, and it soon became of no utility, petitions were sent to Council to have it removed. The ladies, however, objected, and appealed earnestly to the city fathers to let it remain. It was suggesetd that it be removed to the market court, but this proposal was fought also.

The advent of the automobile, especially after Cameron street had been paved with vitrified brick, made it a menace to machines, and, like Temple Bar in London, it became a rock of offense to many.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 117 of article 8 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next general assembly.

Resolved by the senate and the house of delegates (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of senators and members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity to the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and seventeen, which is in the words and figures following, to-wit:

Section 117. General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house; and except also in the case of cities having more than fifty thousand inhabitants, as hereinafter provided. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this amendment a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended so as to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

Notwithstanding, however, anything in this article contained the general assembly may, by general law or by special act (passed as prescribed in article four of this Constitution), depart in any respect (except as otherwise in this section expressly provided) from the form of organization and government prescribed by this article for cities and towns, and may provide, from time to time, for the various cities and towns of the Commonwealth such form or forms of municipal government as the general assembly may deem best; but no form or forms of government authorized by the second paragraph of this section shall become operative except as to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of its qualified electors at an election to be held as may be prescribed therefor by law. All the limitations on the powers of the councils of cities and towns imposed by this article shall apply in like manner to the principal legislative authority under any form of government which may be authorized hereunder. The term "council" as used in sections one hundred and twenty-five and one hundred and twenty-seven of this Constitution shall be construed to include the body which, under any form of municipal government, shall be vested with the principal legislative authority of such municipality.

The general assembly, for the purpose of this article, may classify cities according to their population, but the maximum population prescribed for any class shall exceed the minimum population for the same class by at least ten thousand. The general assembly, at the request, made in manner which may be prescribed by law, of any city having a population of over fifty thousand inhabitants, may grant a special form of government for such city.

Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurer and city sergeants.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 117. (a) General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this Constitution a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

(b) The general assembly may, by general law or by special act (passed as prescribed in article four of this Constitution), depart in any respect (except as otherwise in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution) from the form of organization and government of cities and towns without regard to any powers unaffected by any of the provisions of this article, except those contained in section one hundred and twenty-four, one hundred and twenty-five, one hundred and twenty-six, one hundred and twenty-seven and one hundred and twenty-eight, and may provide, from time to time, for the various cities and towns of the Commonwealth such form or forms of municipal government as the general assembly may deem best; but no form or forms of government authorized by this section shall become operative except as to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of its qualified electors at an election to be held as may be prescribed therefor by law. All the limitations on the powers of the councils of cities and towns imposed by this article shall apply in like manner to the principal legislative authority under any form of government which may be authorized hereunder. The term "council" as used in sections one hundred and twenty-five and one hundred and twenty-seven of this Constitution shall be construed to include the body which, under any form of municipal government, shall be vested with the principal legislative authority of such municipality.

The general assembly, for the purpose of this article, may classify cities according to their population, but the maximum population prescribed for any class shall exceed the minimum population for the same class by at least ten thousand. The general assembly, at the request, made in manner which may be prescribed by law, of any city having a population of over fifty thousand inhabitants, may grant a special form of government for such city.

Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurers and city sergeants.

(c) The general assembly, at the request of any city or town made in manner provided by law, may grant to it any special form of organization and government authorized by sub-section (b) of this section, and subject to all of the provisions of that sub-section, except that it shall not be necessary for such city or town to thereafter adopt the same.

(d) Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurers and city sergeants.

(e) Any form of organization and government authorized by any provision of this section which may have been adopted heretofore by any city or town pursuant to any act of the general assembly enacted before such provision became effective, and which is now in operation, is hereby declared legal and valid ab initio, and shall have the same force and effect as if it had been authorized by this Constitution at the time of its adoption.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 133 of article 9 of the Constitution of Virginia.

Dangerous to Use Treatment for Only Temporary Relief.

There is a more serious stage of Catarrh than the annoyance caused by the stopped-up air-passages, and other distasteful features.

The real danger comes from the tendency of the disease to continue its course downward until the lungs become affected, and then dreaded consumption is on your path. Your own experience has taught you that the disease cannot be cured by sprays, inhalers, atomizers, jellies and other local applications.

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

The proposed exchange rates for local service as applying to the Alexandria central office district, to be as follows:

|---|---|---|
| Individual Line, Per Annum | $60 | $36 |
| Two Party Line, Per Annum | 54 | 27 |

To Our Patrons

Alexandria, Va., June 2, 1919.

In line with our progressive banking methods, and to meet the demands of our patrons, we are installing on July 1st, an up-to-date Safe Deposit Department, under the personal supervision of one of our officers.

This has been made necessary from the fact that a large number of our depositors owning Liberty Bonds and other securities desire a safe place for their keeping.

It is our plan to enlarge the number of Safe Deposit Boxes, and make a rental charge to meet the operating expenses of this Department. This charge will become effective July 1st, 1919, and a bill will be sent out at that time to the holders of boxes, and if any desire to make any change we will be glad to have them call before the bills are rendered for the ensuing year.

By order of the Board of Directors
